Responses

The various experiences of other clubs.
Ideas shared which actually produced results
The ideas on recruiting
Hearing about the approaches that worked. For the most part, the approaches were already well-known, but they found ways to make membership recruitment more successful.
Different membership ideas from very different clubs.
New ideas, solutions given to quandries, speakers are inspirational.
The panel format
Real results and info.

The level of wealth of the clubs on the panel was not as relatable to my own club and was a bit difficult to connect how my club can do similar methods at a lower money level.
All good. Some confirmed things we are already doing but nice to have it confirmed
We could have used more time for Q & A. The session was already truncated due to the opening session (perhaps end that a little sooner), but some of the speakers should keep their opening remarks shorter to allow time for more questions.
The entire panel gave great insight and ideas on growing your club.rec
Maybe the speakers could provide tools that would assist us afterwards, ie list of resources, methods used to gain new members written down or give ways to access what they spoke of. We want to return home w resources we can refer to.
Not a lot of examples of clubs like ours. When someone says they have $1m-$7.5m in their foundations vs our $60k i think there is an opportunity to invite a different type of club

Reaching deep into the community is a must.
Working with Target on buying spree to engage teachers and parents on a very useful learning experience
Recruiting administrator and public officials
Have a greater community presence (attend functions, tap into potential corporations/businesses and large donors, etc.), use LinkedIn, get our club to get involved in projects that engage the community (as opposed to just providing financial support).
Several
Service more, less mtgs. Use as recruiting tool. Hv eve fun mtgs & morning mtg
Gonna do a lot more inviting and programs that engage
